NUMBER 285

Mr. H. C. Atkins has been promoted to the general superintendency of the Chicago, Milwankee & St. Paul railway, to succeed Mr. Van Horne.

Governor Tabor, of Colorado, "manages to limp along at the head of the procession out that way," having an income of $3,000 a day from one of his mines.

The three famous Washburne brothers are at Eureka Springs, Arkansas, for their health-Israel, of Maine, E. B. of Illinois, and C. C. of this State. All have been in Congress, and two of them have been Governors.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Daniel Wells, of Milwankee, received the other day, $225,000 on the profits of a one-fifth share in a "pork-corner" in Chicago. The Democrats of Wisconsin will want to make a Bookwalter of him, and induced the old gentleman to run for Governor on their ticket.

Congressman Houk, of Tennessee, says that most of the States of the late Solid South will be in the doubtful column by 1881, if the present rate of dissolution goes on. So far as Tennessee is concerned he says the liberal movement in that State has so much vitality that unless all the offices are filled with Democrats the State is more sure to go Republican than either New York or Indiana.

As has been predicted all along, Guiteau is being brought to his senses under the sentence of death. The rape is proving a powerful effect in taking away the blackguardism, the vanity, and the blasphemy that have been his boast since the trial began. Washington dispatches say the wretch is becoming depressed, and is losing hope. That is a good thing. He has been dined and petted long enough, and now let him fare as other cold-blooded murderers have fared, and justice will not be insulted.

The country has not quite forgotten Mr. Platt, sometimes called "Me Too," who resigned because Mr. Conkling did. Well, he wrote a letter the other day to the Albany Grant Club in which he said: "I would rather be one of the glorious 300 at Chicago, even after the storm came and the stampede raged, or one of the Spartan band who at Albany last spring and sun nor for many weeks faced the fury of a crazy press and peop'e, than be a Senator." The people would rather have him one of the "309" than have him Senator, so both are sat-

There has been a queer story put in circulation by the Indianapolis News that a scheme is on foot to benefit the Vincennes University in Indiana, by means of a lottery. The history of the scheme is briefly this: The charter granted by the Legislature in 1807 contained a clause providing for the raising of $20,000 by lottery, the money to be used for the purpose of establishing a library and procuring experimental apparatus. The Supreme Court has decided that the charter was a contract which the lottery laws cannot invalidate and the trustees have appointed a committee to superintend the scheme. A member of a notorious firm of lottery managers and agents has purchased the franchise, and is bound to make annual payments to the university until the sum of $20,000 has been realized. Agencies are to be established throughout the State and there are to be daily drawings. It has been suggested, and very timely too, that if these statements are true, the Vincinnes University will hereafter be a good place not to send children to.

A dispatch from Washington to the Milwankee Republican in giving the names of the citizens of Wisconsin who are seeking prominent Fedral office says: -"Mr. Hauser, formerly postmaster at Fon du Lac, is candidate for minister to Paraguay and Uraguay-the place tendered to Gen. Rusk by President Garfield and declined by him. Mr. Hutchison, of Madison, is also a candidate for the place and is supported by Representative Caswell. A strong movement is in progress to have Thomas Allen, of The Oshkosh Northwestern, appointed governor of the territory of Wyoming, The present incumbent is Prof. John W. Hoyt, formerly of Wisconsin. The first year of Gov. Hoyt's official work was not acceptable to some of the people of the territory and an effort was made to have him removed. He has not been very popular there, and this circumstance, together with a practical preference in favor of Mr. Allen, may result in a change between now and and evening. The election of officers respring. Gen, Fred Solomon who held the | sulted as follows: office of surveyor general of Utah by the favor of Mr. Hayes and Secretary Schurzz is here for the purpose of persuading President Arthur to reappoint him- He is backed be the unanimous preference of the Gentiles, of Utah. and comes with strong letters from government officials there to Senators asking their aid in his behalf. Gen. Solomon is an old cit zen of Wisconsin and a brother to Gov. Edward Solomon."

The articles which have appeared in the Gazette from time to time (in regard to the production of silk in this country, and on the work the Woman's Silk Culture Association is doing for this interesting and profitable industry, have attracted wide attention, and information has been asked us by mail and otherwise concerning the address of the ladies in Philadelphia who are at the head of the

as they desire, Gazette gives the address of the society's rooms. Letters should be addressed "Woman's Silk Culture Association, No. 1,328 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pa., and stamps should be enclosed for return-postage. The public interest in this new and profitable industry is evinced by the fact that from 300 to 400 letters are received monthly by the society. As has been said, the culture of silk is intended as an industry for women and children, to be carried on at their homes wherever there is ground enough for the trees to grow; and many are taking advantage of the alvise, information, and aid of the society, and are profitably engaged in the pleasant industry. In one of the circulars issued by the society it gives the following facts: "There are at present 200 silk mills in daily operation, weaving last year 1,599,-666 pounds of imported raw silk at a cost of about $10,000,000. Raw silk commands from $1 to $3 a pound, and cocoons and floss silk 90 cents to $1 a pound. Two hundred mulberry trees will grow well on two acres of land, which would yield about 30,000 pounds of leaves. About sixteen pounds of leaves are required to make one pound of fresh cocoons, thus making in all 1,765 pounds of fresh cocoons. These stifled would yield about 588 pounds of silk. The expenses would not exceed $160. This deducted from $1,176, the value of the cocoons, leaves $1,016 as the profit on two acres of land in one month's time."

FARMER'S SOCIETIES.

Madison, Feb. 8.—The joint sessions of the Horticultural and Agricultural Associations were continued to-day. The revision of the premium list was completed. Professor Paine, of the State University, then spoke, touching upon the Ambroi cane and ensilage experiment, and the University farm. The Legislature last year appropriated $4,000 with which to conduct the experiment. One thousand pounds of sugar have been made, exhibits of which have been sent over the State to the amount of 200 packages. Ensilage has been practiced about six years. The ensilage product to the acre has been from 22,000 to 42,000 pounds. R. S. Russell President of the State Cane-growers association, next addressed the meeting on the general advancement of the canegrowing interest. A very fine exhibition of sugar ann sirup manufactured from the Ambroi-cane is placed in one of the rooms of the society.

The Conference of Charities listened to reports of various committees. Several addresses were made during the day ed the following report: To the Board of Supervisors of Rock County: Your committee very much regret being obliged to report the insane asylum recently erected on the county farm not yet ready for occupancy This is due to the failure of the boiler furnished by the contractor to heat the building to do the work expected and required. On the 29th of December last, having been notified by Mr. Libbey that the apparatus for heating was in readiness for inspection and trial, this committee met at the county farm. The weather was so mild no opportunity was afforded for such test of efficiency as called for by the contract. But the working of the boiler so far as this committee were able to discern, gave satisfaction, and not doubting the success of the plan gave directions to the contractors to proceed with the work of putting in the pipes and radiators in the old insane asylum and the main building. Your committee then resting under the as surance that all was right made arrangement for putting in the furniture and getting all things in readiness to receive the intended occupants. About the 10th inst. a notice was re-ceived from Mr. Libbey stating that on further trial he had discovered that the boiler was insufficient, and that instead of putting in another boiler of the same kind in the old asylum as specified in the contract, he would substitute a horizontal tubular boiler, 10 feet long, by 35 inches diameter, and place it in the old asylum building. The committee therefore again met at the county farm, and after examining the sit-uation and careful consideration determined to permit this to be done, and have so arranged Libby has agreed to do this, county to furnish the brick required. Hha been acquired by candid, honest dealing and years of successful practice, My practice, not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experi ence and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, make sick to make well; no harsh treat-ment, no trifling, no flattering. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained by years of experience in the treatment of Chronic Diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candic in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for yourselves: it will cost nothing as consultation is free. relate the true story of her escape from the Tuilleries.

-The number of designs and models received in Rome for the new monument to Victor Emanuel amounts to about 300. The architects incline to the construction of a public square, flanked by porticos, and a triumphal arch in the center, with the statue of Victor Emanuel under it. The sculptors favor a monument in the form of an obelisk, and many designs for such an oblisk are felicitous. Among the absurdities mentioned is a design by an American for a monument in the form of a helmet, on the circular part of which is the map of Europe in relief, and on the crest the map of Italy, and between these the figure of Victor Emanuel on horseback with drawn sword.

-Some of the most eminent of the academical teachers of medicine in Russia have given a deliberate preference in choosing assistants to certain ladies who have given proof of genuine scientific attainments, both in practice and literature. During the last few years the numbers of female students of the medical faculty have risen to 400. The reactionary party believes or feigns to believe that the education of a woman as a physician is almost one and the same thing as converting her into a Nihilist, and it is now pressing for government interference with the admission of women to the medical course. The new war minister has "advised" (which possibly means commanded) the professors to dismiss all their female assistants, and to employ men; and in the military hospitals orders are given to exclude women

-Another affliction has befallen the inhabitants of the Dardanelles. Having suffered from a plague of locusts, they are now groaning under a plague of horse-stealers. An organized society of horse stealers is now carrying on its operations so skillfully and successfully that there is, it is stated, scarcely a settler in the district who has not been victimized. The band, composed of Circassians, Greeks, and Turks, have their agents in all quarters, and are reported to have proctectors in high places who share in the profits. The operations of the society are conducted by instructions issued from its "head center." Each section acts in its own locality, and the animals stolen are driven off at once to the coast for shipment, or to places where it is useless to follow them. The authorities when appealed to decline to take any steps in the matter unless a guarantee is given that all expenses incurred will be paid by the person who prefers the complaint. As such expenses often amount to more than the value of the animals stolen, the farmers who are robbed put up with the loss rather than throw good money after bad.

Bound Feet of Chinese Women.

Iron shoes are neither used nor known in China. The method is simply to use a strong muslin bandage. I have never heard of the bindings being put on a child under four years of age, and I think they oftener wait until she is two or three years older. In one school that I had all the girls were in the first year of binding. The youngest was six years old and the eldest eight. Of course, the later the binding is begun the greater the pain. The bandage of muslin usually is three or four feet long and from five to seven inches wide. They commence at the middle of its length, passing it under the toes and crossing the two halves over the top, pulling each part tightly, and so on over and under until the foot is covered very tightly. As the bandage approaches the heel, a fold is thrown around it, with a pull forward toward the toes, to shorten the foot. This pulling forward of the heel in time forces the instep up in a most painful and ugly manner, and just here they often find the greatest trouble in this cruel custom, for the pressure is sometimes so great upon the instep that the skin bursts, inflammation and ulceration sets in, and the child may die. I have heard of but few fatal cases, however, though there might be many and we not know of them.

The first year the foot is simply bandanged tightly, to suppress the growth. The second year all the small toes are folded down under the foot, leaving only the larger toes in their natural position. The pulling of the heel forward and forcing the instep up has made a little hollow under the foot, where the poor folded-down toes find a place. I am told that the tight bandaging stops the growth of the nails, so that they do not give trouble. The same sort of bandage is used, and the binding done as in the first year, only this time with added torture, from the unnatural position of the toes. This process of binding is kept up for years, from eight to eleven, and even longer in some cases, before the greatly desired tiny shoe in length, and a babe a week old of some one else was binding up the poor little feet. And yet so strong is the adnot of such heroic spirit, and rebel vigorously under the torture, sometimes struction of muscle, from the fact that dies are used. father of a girl whose ulcerated feet he reduced to the desired size and the bandages need no longer be used to les-move the covering and show the hideous deformity within. The woman whose -The Empress Eugenie is going to feet I saw told me that hers were bound eleven years before they became "dead feet"--that is, ceased to pain her; but that even yet, if she stood long, walked much, or her feet became heated, or she wore new shoes, they often gave her much pain. The little toes were pressed into the hollow under the foot, the heel was lengthened considerably, and she passed the large toe and heel toward each other under the foot, so that they touched. My heart was sick as I looked at this ruin of God's handiwork, and thought of the thousands enduring that torture at that moment. These are the real lady feet, the "golden lilies" of South China, and greatly do they wonder at our full-grown feet .- Funchau Cor. N. Y. Independent.

The Czar's Home Life.

Apart from the continual dread which must ever hang over the Czar Alexander III.'s life, lest he should become the victim of a Nihilist plot, his existence is not an unhappy one. While to the outer world this ruler over eighty millions of people is stern, and even overbearing in his manner, in his own family circle he is loving, tender and amiable. Unlike his father, the late Czar, he is exceedingly happy in the society of his wife and children. While his father, during the latter part of his life, was on ill terms with the Czarina, and also with his eldest son, the present Czar has always been conspicuous for his chivalrous devotion to his Danish spouse. The Czar rises early; and by nine o'clock his breakfast has been finished, and he has repaired to his comfortable but simply-furnished study, there to begin the labors of the day. Far from being an idle man, his position as an absolute monarch makes it necessary that he should absorb most of his time in regal duties. With these he is taken up the greater part of the day, no matter in which of his many palaces he may be for the time residing; for he has a decided taste and aptitude for public affairs. He remains in his study from nine till one; overlooking his correspondence, conferring with his Ministers-who make daily reports to himand dictating a great number of ukases and orders. In the afternoon he receives deputations from various parts of his vast empire, who come to petition him to do this or that for their district. It has always, indeed, been a custom of the Czars to freely permit such deputations access to their presence. At one o'clock daily the Czar invariably takes lunch with his bright and amiable wife and his children. It is very rarely that any one else-even the most intimate relatives and friends of the Imperial family-is present at this meal. Toward the latter part of the afternoon, the Czar goes out walking or driving; being usually accompanied by the Empress Dagmar, or by one of his sturdy boys. But on these excursions he is always amply guarded by Cossacks, while every way of approaching his person is narrowly watched by the secret police. Both the Czar and his family are extremely fond of music; and this is the favorite and most keenly enjoyed recreation of the evening hours at the palace. It is said that when Alexander was a

Before eleven o'clock the entire Imperial household is wrapt in slumber; though we may believe that the Czar, iron-souled and stern as he is, must lie awake thinking of the hidden dangers with which the Nihilist conspiracy can surround him, night and day. He is very fortunate in his wife, who is not only completely devoted to him, but is a most careful mother and a model household manager. Her room is directly beneath that of the Czar, and is connected with it by a private staircase. As with his apartment, her room is at once comfortably and simply furnished. She, too, is a busy person; for she superintends the work of many charitable societies, and a large portion of each day is devoted to this beneficent labor. The rest of the time is taken up with the training and education of her children, the elder of whom studies six hours

A valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science, an entirely New and positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure of Seminal Emissions and Impotency by the only true way, viz: Direct Application to the principal Seat of the Disease, acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Beminal Vesicles, Ejaculatory Ducts, Prostate Gland, and Urethra. The use of the Remedy is attended with no pain or inconvenience, and doer not interfere with the ordinary pursuits of life; it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the sexual and nervous organizations wrecked from self-abuse and excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the Dimness of Sight, Nervous Debility, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, etc., etc., and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring perfect Sexual Vigor, where it has been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in these troubles, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no Nonsense about this Preparation. A Grand Good Time Generally.

The thirty-fourth annual session of the Grand Encampment of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Wisconsin having closed its labors in this city, a publicreception and entertainment was given that grand body at the armory of the Bower City Rifles last evening. Under the escort of the reception committee the members of the Grand Encampment took seats in the large hall soon after seven o'clock, and in a very short time thereafter the hall was packed with members of the order from this city, their families and friends. The armory had been festooned with flags, and presented a neat and beautiful appearance.

As a prelude to the opening ceremonies of the reception, the "opening ode" was sung by a quartet composed of C. N. Vankirk, Clarence L. Clark, W. R. Follansbee, and Wm. Bladen, the entire audience standing, after which Patriarch Volney Atwood, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced Mayor A. P. Lovejoy, who, in a few brief, well chosen words, bade the members of the Grand Encampment a hearty welcome. At the conclusion of this Past Grand J. C. Metcalf welcomed the visitors on behalf of the order in the following eloquent re-

I would that I had an eloquent tongue that I might fittingly express to you as citizens and as Odd Fellows, our hearty appreciation of your efforts to make our stay in your beautiful city, a pleasant one. But I can speak the plain, simple words "we thank you," which, when they come from the heart are more expressive than the eloquence of the most gifted orator. We had heard of the beautiful city of Janesville, situated in the midst of one of heard of the enterprise and energy of its inhabitants; we knew that they were kind hearted, generous and courteous; we had met some of the Odd Fellows, and we knew they were true and earnest. And when we decided to come to your city to hold our session, we expected to have a good time; we expected to be met with fraternal cordiality and kindness. A High Compliment.

From all parts of the country come press notices speaking praise for the play "Only a Farmer's Daughter," which will be given at Lappin's Hall to-morrow evening. The following from the Columbus State Journal is one of many, and no one should miss seeing a play and company so popular everywhere: "ONLY A FARMER'S DAUGHTER."-This play, in four acts, by Elliott Barnes, was presented at Comstock's Opera House last y was greeted by a large night. The compa audience, which was kept in the best of humor all the evening, and was profuse in its applause bestowed upon the several members of the company. The plot is an interesting one, and furnishes every opportunity for a scheming adventuress, which character is taken by Adelai le Cherie, to excellent advantage. Elliott Barnes, the author, plays the accomplice in fine style. Bertha Welby, the lady who assumes the title role, is an actress of acknowledged ability, and was recognized by her old friends here, having been a favorite at one time at the old Athe naeum. In her time she has been with Ada Cavendish, Raymond, Owens and Barrett, as support. Miss Cherie is a clever artiste, a magnificent dresser, and a very handsome woman. She reads her lines with great force, and is endowed with remarkable facial expression. Her performance of Mme. Laurent will long be remembered by those present. The other members of the company are good, and the entertainment is well worthy of such extended patronage as it received last night .- Columbus State
